FORD AND ROOSEVELT TO TALK

HENRY FORD WILL VISIT PRESIDENT; WANTS NO FAVORS

AUTOMOBILE MANUFACTURER ALSO SAYS WILL GIVE ROOSEVELT NO ADVICE

SUDBURY, Mass., April 21.—(AP)—Henry Ford of Detroit today revealed plans for a discussion of "business conditions" with President Roosevelt, but asserted he would enter the conference with no axe to grind.

Standing in the warm spring sunshine of the extensive Wayside Inn estate, the multi-millionaire automobile maker said he did not intend to give any "advice." But he left no doubt of his own views.

His solution of present-day problems, Ford said in rapid-fire fashion, would be an expansion of the "back-to-the-farm" movement.

"If people do not raise their own food," he asserted, "they will have to have a dictator to tell them to do it."

He said that in his opinion, the "farm is the thing that will save the country," and added: "In no other way can we raise the money. The farms today must provide for industry."

"As an example I am going to cultivate every foot of the whole acreage here, right away," Ford added that his "panacea" for anything was "work."

"This entire land is just yearning for young men to go to work in it. That's all a young fellow needs today, the habit of work. Once he gets a habit, he'll find his own work."

Ford voiced the belief that America was on the road back to normalcy, but warned against over-confidence and predicted that commodity prices would be established at a lower level.

Farm products never too cheap because when the prices of farm products go down, the uses will be found for the products."

He said in this connection that industry was using more plastics and was looking to agriculture to supply materials. Cellulose could

FRANCO-SPANISH BORDER TOWN WAS BOMBED THURSDAY

MANY KILLED AND WOUNDED AND HEAVY PROPERTY DAMAGE WAS INFLICTED

PERPIGNAN, France (At The Spanish Border), April 21.—(AP)—Spanish insurgent airmen today bombed towns, troop concentrations and one of the principal railways of Northern Catalonia in a drive to smash the remaining land links between Catalonia and France.

At least 22 civilians were killed and 30 injured at Puigcerda, Pyrenees gateway, where a Catalonian railway reaches the French border at one of the three frontier passes remaining under government control.

Six hours after the noon hour bombardment rescue crews digging in the debris of the railway station and other Puigcerda buildings reported recovery of 22 bodies.

Swooping low to rain bombs and machine-gun bullets, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's planes raided a 40-mile branch railroad between Puigcerda and Ripoll in upper Goerona province.

The bombardment of Puigcerda began at noon when four bombers and four pursuit planes swept in over the Pyrenees. The attack lasted almost half an hour, with one bomb dropped every minute.

Number of Buildings Hit.

A number of buildings were hit and the railroad station was wrecked. A trainload of merchandise standing in the freight yards was demolished.

In addition to the dead, many persons inside the bombed buildings were reported wounded.

The attack came at the time insurgent General Solchaga's forces were driving against Seo de Urgel, border town farther west in an attempt to join forces with Southern Pyrenees troops whose objective was Puigcerda, considered the key to northern Catalonia's defenses.

Spanish frontier guards, apparently acting under orders, formed a strong blockade all along the border, refusing to allow the terror stricken population to rush across into France.

Guards, however, did permit evacuation of some wounded into Bourg Madame.

A number of pilots were reported to have observed the frontier carefully, neither flying over French territory nor dropping bombs on the French side.

The planes wheeled and bombed Seo de Urgel, 25 miles southwest of Puigcerda.

French authorities took prompt precautions against any spread of offensive to French soil. French mobile guards reinforced

ANATOLIA QUAKE DEATH TOLL GROWS TO AT LEAST 800

EIGHTEEN VILLAGES UTTERLY DESTROYED AND TWENTY TWO OTHERS DAMAGED

ANKARA, Turkey, April 21.—(AP)—The Anatolia earthquake toll of dead and missing soared to at least 800 today after a night of continuing shocks which 50,000 homeless spent in mad terror.

Terrific underground rumblings were accompanied by intermittent earthquakes over a wide area of western Asia bordering the Aegean Sea, and especially about Kirshehr, Yozgad and Tchorum.

Panic stricken refugees fled from crevices full of boiling water.

Eighteen villages were utterly destroyed, and 22 others were badly damaged.

Whole families were buried under mountainous debris. Most of the victims were women and children.

Salvage and relief squads were organized throughout the stricken country and the National Assembly voted emergency funds.

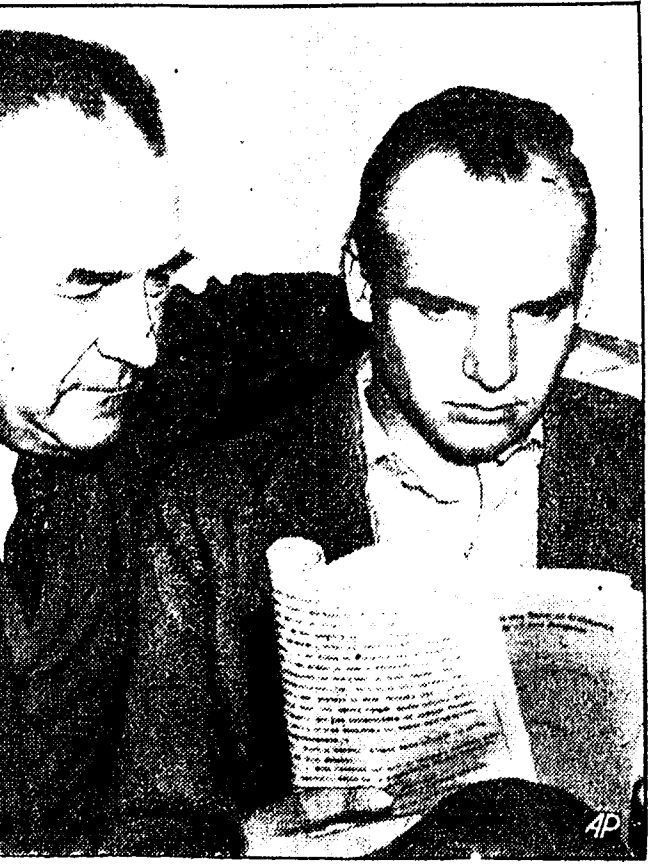

Heads of foreign diplomatic missions presented condolences to the government.

The quakes first were felt about 1 p. m. Tuesday and lasted until midnight. They were renewed last night.

The ruins were in some of the most productive agricultural districts. Following the first shocks many residents rushed into the countryside.

The Red Crescent, a relief organization similar to the Red Cross, mobilized workers and doctors to give aid.

PRESIDENT INVITES AUTO MANUFACTURER TO WHITE HOUSE

EDSEL FORD AND FORD PUBLIC RELATIONS ADVISOR ARE ALSO INVITED

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—The White House announced today President Roosevelt had invited Henry Ford to an informal luncheon conference with him next Wednesday.

Stephen Early, a presidential secretary, said the invitation was sent to the automobile manufacturer by telegraph last night.

The telegram said if the elder Ford desired he might bring along his son, Edsel, president of the Ford Motor company and W. J. Cameron, public relations advisor.

It was expected the three would talk over business conditions with the president, although no subject was mentioned in the invitation.

Ford said he would go to the White House as a man who had no favors to ask. The automobile manufacturer said he wanted to shake hands with the president "as an old friend," and have a chat.

"I shall not give him any advice," Ford added.

While the text of the White House telegram was not given out, Early said it noted that Ford would be in Washington next week and said the president would be delighted to have him lunch informally with him.

It will be Henry Ford's first visit to the White House since President Roosevelt took office. He has differed with many new deal measures and principles, especially the industrial recovery act and the Wagner labor relations law. He refused to sign NRA's blue eagle declaration of compliance.

Edsel Ford Recent Visitor.

Edsel Ford was a recent participant in a White House conference designed to discourage high pressure salesmanship of automobiles.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation announced yesterday it was ready to meet the financial needs of all comers in an attempt to end the industry's construction slump.

White House advisers have estimated that possibly a $1,000,000,000 utilities building program could be undertaken immediately with quick and far-reaching effects in other industries such as steel, cement, brick and lumber.

Utilities executives told the President several months ago they

HEAVY MOVEMENT JAPANESE TROOPS TO CHINA AGAIN

RECENT NIPPON REVERSES HAVE CREATED HIGH POLITICAL TENSION

TOKYO, April 21.—(AP)—Large number of new troops are being sent to China where recent Japanese military reverses have created high political tension at home.

There are no figures, but the troop movement is the first on a large scale in many months.

Streets are filled with departing soldiers bidding farewell to their families, and the scenes are comparable to those of last September when Japan entered the conflict in earnest and began moving large home forces to the front.

The political crisis which has risen from the China campaign may come to a head when Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye reports to the emperor tomorrow.

The premier returned to work today after nearly month's absence attributed to illness, during which rumors grew that he would resign in opposition to further steps to increase military power.

The prince himself said in an interview that "there is no need to worry much" about "relations between the government and fighting services" due to the "current China situation."

He did say, however, that "the China question must be the basis for solution of all outstanding domestic problems," and "beyond that I have no ideas about cabinet changes."

He declared his approval of formation of a new political party, "from an idealistic viewpoint," but thought it "doubtful a better party can be formed by mere reshuffling of existing ones."

Finally, the premier dealt with reports that his home minister, Admiral Nobumasa Suetsugu, was active behind the scenes in organizing a new nationalistic (fascist) party.

"The home minister is a novice in politics," Prince Konoye

AMERICAN NAZIS DEMAND PROBE OF REP. DICKSTEIN

SEVEN MEN WEARING AMERICAN LEGION CAPS BEATEN AT BUND MEETING

NEW YORK, April 21.—(AP)—Congressional investigation of the activities of Rep. Samuel Dickstein (D-NY) was asked by the German-American Bund today following a riot at a bund rally celebrating Adolf Hitler's 49th birthday.

Seven men, members of a group who attended the meeting wearing American Legion caps, were beaten so severely by uniformed storm troopers they require hospital treatment. Four persons were arrested.

A squad of 75 policemen fought half an hour to restrain street crowds, intent on retaliating, from invading the meeting.

The rally, held in a casino in Yorkville, Manhattan's German community, was attended by approximately 3,500 bund members and sympathizers.

James Wheeler Hill, national bund secretary, in a telegram to Speaker Bankhead in Washington, said Rep. Dickstein a critic of the bund, had predicted in congress there would be bloodshed if the meeting were held.

"We respectfully emphatically request," the telegram said, "immediate investigation to determine any connection of representative Dickstein with troublemakers who attempted to cause riots at this meeting."

Jean Mathias, one of the injured, said the riot began when he rose and asked "Will there be any English spoken here?"

"And with that," he began, "a bunch of men in Nazi uniforms jumped up and began to punch me and trample on me."

Spectacular Fire At Minneapolis In Big Grain Elevator

MINNEAPOLIS, April 21.—(AP)—A spectacular fire starting early today destroyed the 55-year-old Pillsbury elevator with loss estimated at between $350,000 and $500,000.

Approximately half a million bushels of wheat, barley and rye were destroyed. The structure was 13 stories high and was owned by the Andrews Grain company.

At the height of the fire, residents in the vicinity were warned to be ready to evacuate, but rain-dampened roofs and grasses resisted the spread of flames. Burning grain and other debris was scattered in several blocks.

The fire still was burning in some sections at noon.

Night Watchman George Frost, who discovered the fire, said it might have started from overheated machinery.

Texans Celebrate Anniversary Famed San Jacinto Fight

HOUSTON, April 21.—(AP)—Thousands of Texans joined today in celebrating the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto when Mexico won freedom from the clutches of the Republic.

Patriotic ceremonies, which started with flag raising ceremonies at Hermann Park here, were to be climaxed this afternoon with a program at San Jacinto battlefield, under the auspices of the Sons and Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

The morning program also included an address by Robert Hudson of Refugio, state president of the Sons of the Republic.

The ceremonies at the battlefield ground will be presided over by Frank M. Gossett, president of San Jacinto chapter, Sons of the Republic.

UNDERSTANDING IS CHARGED BETWEEN NAVY AND FIRMS

NORTH DAKOTA SENATOR DRAWS REPLY FROM SENATOR CONNALLY IN DEBATE

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Senator Nye (R-ND), renewing his attack on the $1,564,546,000 naval expansion bill, told the senate today there appeared to be a "large degree of understanding between the navy and private firms in the shipbuilding field."

Citing testimony taken by his munitions committee during an investigation several years ago, Nye asserted that no one would "honestly" study the record of the last three or four years without concluding there was at least some basis for his contention.

He added that the "understanding" went so far that "the naval establishment has gone hand in hand with the munitions makers over the face of the globe helping them effect sales of American-made munitions to other nations."

A review by Nye of some of the evidence obtained by the munitions committee evoked from Senator Connally (D-Tex.) a criticism that the committee inquiry had been "unfair" to naval officials because it "accepted at face value" a number of "unfounded and unwarranted charges."

The munitions committee, Connally contended, listened to "insinuations and slanders" about the navy department without asking the officials involved to reply to the charges.

Connally declared Nye was will-

ONE HUNDRED AND FORTY-SEVEN DIED MARCH ACCIDENTS

AUSTIN, April 21.—(SPL)—March traffic crashes brought death to 147 people on Texas streets and highways, state police reported today, raising the 1938 death toll to 434.

Cities, the figures revealed, showed improvement during March when 55 were fatally injured within corporate limits and 88 were highway casualties. Fifteen of the dead reported in March received their fatal injuries during the previous month. Safety department experts pointed out that only 115 of the 1,123 crashes in March proved fatal and that in a number of instances more than one person was killed.

In analyzing the causes of the increase in the death rate over February when 143 died of traffic injuries, police were prone to believe that spring weather played an important part. Heavily trafficked highways, particularly on week-ends, were the scenes of many of the fatal collisions. There was a sharp rise, too, in the pedestrian death list.

The least deadly of the fatal collisions took place. Eleven of the 147 were killed during that hour and 18 met death from midnight until dawn. State police declared their campaign against speeders is continuing in view of that factor entering into most of the fatal crashes.

A number of unfit drivers have been removed from the highways since the drivers' license law amendment requiring the examination of license applicants was placed in effect several months ago. The less than 1 per cent of those applying for the permit have been refused because of physical, mental or other defects.

Three Men Were Fatally Burned Highway Crash

SAN ANTONIO, April 21.—(AP)—Three men were fatally burned in a flaming sedan, a fourth was critically injured, and one other was less seriously injured in a head-on collision of a car and truck three miles south of Von Ormy late last night.

The dead: Gene Gauslin, 22, of Lytle. Raymond Howard, 21, of Lytle. Garrett Henfield, Lytle, driver of the car.

Seriously injured was W. Kay, also of Lytle, who has a fractured thigh and other injuries. Less seriously injured was James Jones, 16, of Temple, who was riding on the truck. L. H. Fletcher of Crystal City, said to be driver of the truck, escaped injury.

Gauslin and Howard, riding in the back seat of the car, were cremated while Henfield was also badly burned.

R. O. Bushy of Crystal City, returning home from San Antonio, arrived at the scene shortly after the accident. He said that one

Embarrassment Is Promised League Nations Council

GENEVA, April 21.—(AP)—Troubled by delicate questions piled up today for the League of Nations council, scheduled to open an important session May 9.

Halle Selassie, deposed emperor of Ethiopia, deplored Joseph Ave-nol, the league's secretary-general, who would be represented at the session to fight against recognition of Italy's conquest of his country.

Switzerland, seeking further guarantees of her neutrality and freedom from league obligations, drafted a demand the council consider the question of her "integral neutrality."

An "embarrassment" was promised the council by the demand of the Barcelona government of Spain that the session take up the question of foreign intervention in the Spanish civil war.

These developments meant opposition to the course Britain is following in keeping her bargain with Italy, signed at Rome last Saturday.

President American Newspaper Editors Decries Censorship

DECLARES "BLACK PLAGUE" OF NEWSPAPER CONTROL SPREADING TO AMERICA

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Alfred H. Kirchhoffer, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, asserted today that "the black plague" of newspaper censorship was spreading to the American continent.

Kirchhoffer, managing editor of the Buffalo, (N.Y.) Evening News, opened the society's annual convention by declaring it was the duty of this country's free press "to defend and interpret free institutions."

"Today self-government is on trial," he said, "an independent press can uphold it."

"History shows that even the best of the politicians, jobseekers and office holding bureaucracy tend to become self-serving. If they aren't thinking of re-election or re-appointment, they are thinking of their place in the sun."

"It is the duty of the newspaper press to warn against such self-aggrandizement. To do this requires a high degree of competence, intelligence and experience in our editors and reporters."

"We should indeed be at the end of our rope if the American government that it, in its entirety"

ALFALFA BILL MURRAY PLUNGES INTO ANOTHER CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNORSHIP OF OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 21.—(AP)—William H. Murray—"Call me ex-Governor Alfalfa Bill on the ballot"—emerged from retirement today and plunged into another campaign for the governorship.

Murray offered a platform of economy to lure the democratic nomination.

Tall, gaunt, gray-haired and bushy-mustached—but heavier than when he left office three years ago—Murray said:

"At 68, I'm a better man than a lot of those now at the capitol who are only 40 because I don't eat and drink myself to death."

The "Sage of Tishomingo" declared the "new deal has no more to do with this election than infant baptism" and said he will campaign on state issues only.

NEW EQUIPMENT FOR POWER DRILLING TO BE EXHIBITED TULSA

A "trial run" for four new pieces of power drilling equipment, including a reverse clutch, power pump, a transmission and drawworks, was made today at the American Well and Prospecting company's plant here. The equipment, designed and built under the supervision of Carl Anderson, chief engineer of the company, will be displayed in the annual Petroleum World Exposition May 14-20 in Tulsa.

Including a number of innovations, the new equipment is designed to adapt present rotary drilling equipment for internal combustion engine power, which has a number of advantages over the old steam engine method. American Well and Prospecting Company officials pointed out that the use of internal combustion engine power does not put a handicap on the operators in relation to water sources, that the handling of fuel is cheaper and more convenient, that the layout of newly designed equipment is more compact and lighter and easier to move from place to place.

GOP CONGRESSIONAL CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN PREDICTS HIS PARTY WILL WIN 76 DEMOCRATIC SEATS

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(AP)—Representative Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, republican congressional campaign chairman, predicted today his party would win at least 76 democratic seats in the house in the November elections.

"Several weeks ago I predicted we would win 85 seats," Martin said, "but opposition to the new deal is growing so fast out in the nation that I feel safe in increasing that figure by 11."

It is entirely possible that we will win control of the house," the republicans now hold 90 seats and the democrats 332.

Defeat of the government reorganization bill, Martin said, "helped the republican cause. He called this relief business, if carried to an excess," would cause democrats to lose more votes than "pump priming" might win.

Oil Industry Is Warned Take More Conservative View

NEW YORK, April 21.—(AP)—R. G. Van Der Woude, president of the Shell Union oil company, addressing the annual meeting of stockholders today, warned the oil industry to bring gasoline stocks down to more normal levels.

"In view of present business conditions," Van Der Woude said, "the industry would be well advised to make its estimates on a more conservative basis. A revision upward could always easily be made at a later date, once actual conditions justify it."

He said that while the optimistic views are being maintained about the future demand for gasoline, adding:

"It would be well in the interest of the industry as a whole to have the interests of steady employment if such optimism were somewhat moderated."

CLAIMED MANY WILD ANIMALS SUFFER FROM ARTHRITIS, ONE COMMONEST HUMAN DISEASES

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH Associated Press Science Writer
PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—(AP)—Discovery that many wild animals suffer from chronic arthritis, one of the commonest and most painful diseases of man, was announced today as a probable new clue to methods of conquering it.

Speaking before the American Philosophical Society, one of the oldest scientific organizations in the United States, Dr. Horatio Fox of the University of Pennsylvania declared he had found the disease in a large variety of animals, both in zoos and in their natural habitat.

It is frequently found in gorillas, baboons and other great apes related to man, he declared, but also is found in other animals, such as hyenas. It is even possible that some of the ancient dinosaurs had terrific cases of arthritis in the joints of their huge bones.

The disease in animals appears to be chiefly an affliction of the spinal column, Dr. Fox declared, and the studies made indicate that the shock of walking or running may be the primary cause. He upset several old theories concerning arthritis by declaring that "there is no apparent relationship" between it and focal infections of the body, diets, or the place in which a person or animal lives.

Because of the similarity of the disease in animals and man a new approach to the study of arthritis, which has been a particularly puzzling medical problem for centuries, is opened up, said scientists who heard the report.

New evidence that the work of thinking develops the brain and the size of the head was reported to the society by Dr. Ales Hrdlicka.

An appeal issued through Science, weekly scientific journal, and the Associated Press brought several scores of reports from both men and women, "the modesty and sincerity" of which were indicated by the growth of the head is somewhat general among adult mental workers, Dr. Hrdlicka declared.

PLAN CELEBRATION CONNECTION GROUND BREAKING FOR FAIR

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY- SIX NEW MEMBERS FOR CHAMBER COMMERCE

Plans for a joint celebration of the successful conclusion of the present membership campaign, and the ground-breaking of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show first unit were initiated at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning and a special committee named to handle the details of the event.

A number of communications were read at the beginning of the meeting after minutes of the last session had been approved. The board refused a request from Senator Burke of Nebraska for a copy of the membership roster. Announcements were made concerning the annual convention of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce at Longview next week, and also on Air Mail Week scheduled in May.

A letter was read from J. G. Rollins, division highway engineer, asking co-operation of the chamber of commerce and the citizenship of Corsicana generally in permitting bluebonnets and other native flowers to remain along the highway until they seeded in order to maintain the crops of the flowers annually.

The chamber executive was asked to confer with officials of Corsicana theaters concerning the showing of "The River," in conjunction with other efforts in behalf of better soil conservation practices in this county within the near future.

Chairman Ralph R. Brown of the membership committee reported a total of 136 new members and $2500 added to the budget in pledges. It was announced the party for the team workers had been postponed from Thursday night until next week. It was also announced a civic events calendar would be attempted in the near future by the chamber.

A. F. Mitchell reported assurance from the highway commission Monday that work would be started on Highway 22 both east and west of Corsicana within the shortest time possible.

Reports were made from several committees by the chamber executive including:

Agriculture—Secured co-operation of farm security administration officials in providing additional supervision making possible more loans in the county.

Public Health—Under the leadership of Dr. J. Wilson David, educational campaigns against tuberculosis and social diseases, particularly syphilis, with an investigation to be made concerning the possibility of securing state and federal funds and the holding of a clinic.

Public Safety and Transportation—Attended conference at Vernon where publicity plans were outlined on the Colorado to Gulf highway through Corsicana.

Dairy—Educational campaign in

Senate foes of the administration's naval expansion bill threw their support today to a proposal to require the government to manufacture its own armaments.

Both sponsors and opponents of the $1,156,000,000 measure said senate debate probably would continue another week. Speechmaking was being carried on largely by opponents.

Senator Nye (R-N. D.), who began a fight against the house-approved bill yesterday, said government production of war supplies and weapons could be established at a cost of only $42,000,000.

"That would remove the pressure occasioned by the desire for the profit that is available through preparedness programs and armament races," Nye said. "It would aid materially in taking the United States out of armament races and keep us interested only in maintaining national defense."

Nye said he might offer the proposal, originally put forward by his majority committee, as an amendment to the bill. Should this fail, he said he probably would urge return of the bill to committee.

A suggestion by Lowry Martin for a membership meeting with the new members of the organization to honor guests was adopted and was later enlarged to coincide with the ground breaking for the first fair buildings. A committee composed of F. H. Harvey, Jr., chairman; C. S. Dickens, Ralph Brown, Lowry Martin, W. E. McKinney, Joe E. Butler and K. D. H. Baldwin was named to handle the details of the meeting. It was urged that an opportunity be given the new members to suggest worthwhile projects for the organization.

Mr. Mitchell reported the architects had been instructed to proceed with plan and specifications for the agriculture livestock buildings of the fair, with the contracts to be let at the same time. He stated progress was as rapid as possible. President J. M. Dyer reported approximately one-half of the subscriptions for the fair had been paid in and more checks were being received daily.

The board also approved the removal of a sign from North Highway 75 to the site for the fair.

Attention of the board was called to the fact that Corsicana had recently been designated as a federal center for a five-county area for internal revenue departments, and a vote of commendation was given those who worked to secure this recognition.

Action of the two Corsicana banks in financing the purchase of 50 calves by Navarro county boys on extremely reasonable terms was commended by the directors.

Continuous Activity.

President Dyer asked the members of the board to start studying on a major objective for the chamber this year, pointing out the financing of the fair plant as the outstanding achievement of last year. He reported many of the points in the three-year program called for continuous activity and there was a need for a definite goal. Several suggestions were made by board members but no action was taken.

It was announced that efforts of the industrial committee had been successful in securing a new survey of the industrial possibilities of the community and the work is scheduled to start soon.

Votes of thanks were extended to Mrs. Charles H. Mills, and all others who co-operated in the staging of the "Bluebonnet Trails" on the first two Sundays of this month.

clutch is to be used in connection with a Diesel, or other internal combustion engine that cannot be reversed like the steam power plant could be. The new transmission is designed to be used with or without the reverse clutch, transmitting six speeds of power to the rotary table, through the draw works, without varying the speed of the power unit. The transmission, officials pointed out, is something entirely unique and has been built by the American Well and Prospecting Company for the first time by any company.

The new draw works is an adaptation of the one previously made by the company, but has a number of improvements and refinements, including all six-inch roller bearings. The newly designed power pump may be operated from the power unit either by chain or by V belt.

One Superstructure.

When installation has been completed the new units as well as the internal combustion engines will be mounted on one superstructure. In operation, it was pointed out, the power will be transmitted about half-way of the base, and belts or chains will transmit the power directly to the power pump and to the draw works and rotary table through the medium of the reverse clutch and the new transmission. With the use of the transmission the driller will have available any speed he desires for any coring, drilling or pulling casing out of the hole under any condition.

Company officials today were checking every operation of the new layout for any correction that might have to be made. They expect to have the second unit completed within the next two weeks. The engineering and production department of the company have been working on the new layout for about a year.

"Our job is not to keep America in these changing times, in the shackles of the status quo, but to make sure that, through methods of discussion and education the newspaper function, the virtues and defects of proposed alterations in our political, social and economic system are understood before we take steps which may lead to change or reform."

Kirchhoff said it was an anomaly "that at a time of greater competition in news dissemination than ever before, the circulation of American newspapers is an all-time high and that increasing criticism is being directed at these self same newspapers."

"It doesn't make sense, he added, 'unless you accept the thesis that the masses are looking to these newspapers for competent, honest and courageous leadership. In other hand, dictators who establish propaganda bureaus think it is enough if they know. Here the people must know and understand."

"It is our responsibility not only to be concerned about what we print but about presenting it so there will be more certainty that it is read and understood."

YOUNGEST CHEMIST OF AMERICAN BODY DELIVERED PAPER

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY PUT FINGER ON SCIENCE WEAKNESS

DALLAS, April 21.—(P)—The youngest chemist at the American Chemical Society convention, Edgar Z. Friedberg, 17-year-old Shreveport boy, delivered a scientific paper Wednesday in which he put his finger on one of the major weaknesses of science.

This was the lack of ability of scientists, particularly chemists, to write so as to make their discoveries clear to the public, or even sometimes to their own colleagues.

Friedberg graduates from Centenary college this year. He was born in New York City, but one branch of his family has lived in Shreveport for five generations.

Dark, short, plump, alert and smiling, he attracted favorable comment. He has the up-to-date interest of youth in current events, but also carries already one trait ascribed to scientists—ability to lose little things.

He kept his manuscript in his room until the hour of delivery today in order to be sure not to lose it. Then he misplaced the book to his room when he went for the paper.

"A scientist with a good literary style need never fear anonymity," his paper stated. "His conclusions will rapidly become familiar to all the members of his field. With the present status of scientific literature as a background, a well-written article would stand out in any standard periodical like the single light on a one-eyed car."

"Good writing can never take the place of good research, but the scholar who has something to say and says it well will command attention far more successfully than one whose discoveries are couched in clumsy terms."

Of this group there were nine students who were listed with "A's" in five subjects and there were twenty who made the honor roll in four subjects.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Bazette Club.
The Home Demonstration club of Bazette met at the home of Mrs. W. C. Wasson Wednesday, April 13th. There were 9 present with 3 new members. We had an interesting discussion on various topics. The President gave us a talk on the kitchen and Mrs. Wasson made some very good suggestions on how to keep our club interesting and helpful. The entertainment committee are all busy on programs for the coming months which we hope will be interesting for all.

The club is sponsoring a play to be presented at the Bazette school house Friday night, April 22. The play is entitled "Bound to Marry." There will be a small charge for the benefit of the club.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Noma Baxter's, Wednesday, April 27th. Miss Rettiger will be with us that day so be sure and come. We want all the members to be present and we invite all others to come. Don't forget the play. Friday night, April 22.—Reporter.

White's Chapel.
"Windows are the eyes of the house, through which we look out," Miss Clara Rettiger, home demonstration agent told a group of White's Chapel Club women at the home of Mrs. M. L. Spurlock Wednesday. Miss Rettiger continued her talk about kitchen curtains by displaying several styles. She said curtains should not conceal our views of the outdoors, but rather be used to secure privacy, soften and temper the incoming light and the hard, ugly window frames, add a home-like touch and introduce color and complete the scheme of decoration in the kitchen. She said if valances were used they should be reduced to a mere ruffle so as not to shut out ventilation.

Materials suggested were gingham, prints, muslin, unbleached domestic or any wash materials. Colors should harmonize with or contrast color scheme in a pleasing manner.

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Megarity, served cream and cakes with different colored Easter rabbits for decoration. Visitors were Mrs. Megarity and her daughter from Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Jack Castles Corsicana.—Reporter.

WITNESSES BOLSTER FLORIDA'S CLAIM AS EDDIE GREEN HOME.

MIAMI, Fla., April 21.—(P)—Several witnesses who quoted Col. E. H. R. Green as saying he considered Miami his home bolstered today Florida's claim to some $5,000,000 in inheritance taxes on the late multimillionaire's estate.

Texas, New York and Massachusetts are contesting Florida's claim in a series of hearings before John S. Flannery, special master for the United States supreme court.

Tom Norfleet, former criminal court judge who approached the Colonel with an associate to interest him in a business deal in 1926 quoted the multimillionaire as saying, "You can get in touch with me anytime because this will be my home from now on."

S. J. Tucker of West Palm Beach, who had had business dealings with the Colonel in Texas and New York before coming to Florida, said Green had told him in New York he wanted to live in Texas. When Tucker saw Green here in 1934 he reminded the Colonel of the statement.

"I thought so then," he said Green replied, "but now I'm down here with all the comforts of home. x x x This is my home and I expect to live here the rest of my life."

Settlement Quickly Reached Due Mumps

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—(P)—Even the apprehensive principals will admit this is a swell story.

When an announcement was made in Superior Judge Timothy I. Fitzpatrick's court: "Opposing attorneys went into a hasty conference and quickly informed the court a settlement had been reached."

Eleven jurors hurried from the courtroom to consult their several physicians.

The announcement: Jesse S. Waterman, the twelfth but absent juror, was down with the mumps.

Brothers Make Bond On Fraud Charges
LAREDO, April 21.—(P)—Thomas J. and William B. Dix brothers, made bonds today on state indictments charging an alleged conspiracy to defraud two Laredo banks with counterfeit A. T. and T. bonds.

Thomas J. was released from jail; William B. was no longer held under guard at a hospital where he was ill.

No bond had been provided for Carl Silver and H. C. Kerr, indicted on similar charges with the Dix brothers. Trial has been set for the June term of district court here.

Stocks Domestic And Foreign Crude Showing Decrease

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(P)—The bureau of mines reported today stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum at the close of the week ended April 9 totaled 307,536,000 barrels, a net decrease of 681,000 barrels compared with the previous week. Stocks of domestic oil decreased 722,000 barrels for the week and foreign crude increased 41,000 barrels.

Daily average production for the week was 3,400,000 barrels or an increase of 20,000 barrels compared with the previous week's level. Runs to stills averaged 3,110,000 barrels daily, compared with 3,145,000 barrels for the preceding week. Daily average imports were 73,000 barrels.

NOBLE JONES NAMED VALEDICTORIAN FOR A. AND M. SENIORS

COLLEGE STATION, April 21.—(P)—Noble D. Jones, of Dallas, civil engineering senior of Texas A. and M. college, has been named valedictorian of the 1938 graduating class of the college by his fellow classmates. Selected from a group of ten seniors on the basis of grade point ratio for the four years, Jones received four times as many votes as his nearest opponent.

With two exceptions, Jones made a straight "A" record throughout his college work, which netted him an average of 2.971 out of a possible 3.000. Jones was a Texas candidate this year for the Rhodes Scholarship and is president of the Scholarship Honor Society, as well as of the Dallas A. and M. club. He is a major on the cadet corps staff.

The list of candidates for valedictorian honors met something of a scholastic record this year, according to Registrar E. J. Howell, with all except the lowest ranking of the group holding a higher average than the top man for the past year. The group, outstanding in the cadet corps this session, includes Jones, T. A. Murrah, Bartlesville, Okla.; Richard White, Eastland; E. D. Coulson Houston; W. A. Grasso, San Antonio; E. D. Butler, Graham; W. F. Gerdes, Port Arthur; Paul John, Jr., San Antonio; M. M. Collier, Pecos; and Monte Kaplan, Waco.

THE HABIT OF CHARITY

St. Paul said it all very beautifully on one of his letters to the people of Corinth. Cardinal Hayes said it again the other day, with special emphasis on modern needs. It was a part of his appeal for contributions to Catholic Charities, but his words may well be read by people of any religion, or of no religion.

"Be charitable in your thoughts, in your speech and in your actions," he said. "Be charitable in your judgments, in your attitudes and in your prayers. Think charitably of your friends, your neighbors, your relatives and even your enemies. And if there be those whom you can help in a material way, do so—not with show nor in a quiet, friendly way, as if it were the most common and everyday experience for you. Charity should be that kind of daily habit for all of us."

Is there not a crying need for such charity in a world bewildered by cruel ideologies and impelled to harsh judgments by the harsh actions in places of power?

THE USEFUL CCC

The fifth annual report of the Civilian Conservation Corps gives more cause for satisfaction than most public reports nowadays. Director Robert Fechner announces that the CCC in these five years has spent $1,920,000,000 and given employment to 2,242,000 persons, nearly all young men otherwise unemployed.

With the conservation work of this corps, particularly its chief task of reforestation, the public has been in sympathy all along. It is possible that the tree-planting and allied activities have added a billion dollars to the material value of the country, and perhaps the improved health, training and morale of the workers has been worth another billion. In short, the nation has been repaid for this expenditure.

SHORTER CREDIT

Consumers' credit has been tightening up in the last year or more. Credit bureaus in 240 American cities, reporting in answer to a questionnaire, indicates that minimum down payments are rising and less time is being allowed for payment period.

This tendency shows most clearly in automobiles. Instead of paying only 25 to 30 percent down in buying a car, as they were recently allowed to do, the buyers in most cases are asked to pay one-third, as they were a few years ago. The maximum term of payment, which for a while was stretched to 30 or 36 months, is now generally reduced to 18 months.

These stricter terms may impose hardship on some buyers, but on the whole are wise. While giving merchants and loan companies more security, they also safeguard buyers who are too easily tempted. It is a rare person, anyway, who can see more than a year and a half ahead nowadays.

The most important figures in America today seem to be Snow White and Charlie McCarthy.

JUST FOLKS

EYE FOR BUSINESS.
Bill was all for business. Many a time he'd stop saying, "There's a corner for a tailor shop!"

With his wife out walking Bill could spot the signs. Advertising bargains in bread-stuffs, meats and wines.

Was a merchant making changes in his store?
Bill would see him at it, passing by the door.

Bill had eyes for business. That was all he knew.
Often he'd tell you if skies were gray or blue.

Couldn't tell a crocus from a hyacinth bloom;
Wouldn't recognize them, potted, in a room.

Bill could spot locations where a ship should be.
But a nesting robin he would never see.

Bill was keen for business; eyes alert for trade!
Nothing wrong about it—that's how he was made.

DESPERATE YOUTH

Our employment for young people, after an encouraging climb from the depth of 1931, is now back where it was—and lower. The employment director of a city Y. M. C. A. says he has had more applications for work in the last three months than in previous decades of vocational guidance work.

Most of the youths dealt with are high school graduates from 18 to 25 years old. An appalling number of them have never had any jobs.

The effect on their minds and characters can be appreciated. "With so many of us older folks bewildered by economic events," observes the director, "it is little wonder that youngsters feel the same way."

There are 400,000 such young men and women in New York City alone.

This problem of finding employment for young men, and also young women, is as important as finding jobs for middle-aged men with families. Out of such bafflement have come revolutions in Germany, Italy and other old world countries.

Such public enterprises as the CCC do well as far as they go, but they are inadequate. A great deal more must be done for youth and by youth, along safe and constructive lines, without delay.

INDUSTRIAL PEACE

There are many people who seem to think it is reasonable—to one's country or one's social class—to say a good word for labor unions. Apparently Myron C. Taylor, retiring chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, has a different viewpoint. In his annual report to stockholders he says, regarding the contract signed last year with the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee:

"The union has scrupulously followed the terms of its agreement and, in so far as I know, has made no unfair effort to bring other employees into its ranks, while the corporation's subsidiaries, during a very difficult period, have been entirely free from labor disturbances of any kind. The cost of a single strike—to the corporation, to the public and to the men—would have been incalculable."

Everything considered, this is a mighty decent statement for such an official to make. And he probably wouldn't make it unless it was deserved. As everyone knows, the relations existing between U. S. Steel and its employees in the past have often been very different from this idyllic picture.

In any case it is fair to assume that the credit belongs to both sides. Such co-operation is a good omen for American industry.

AIR-RAID READING

The government of England, unable to guarantee peace for its people, is trying to think of all possible ways to make war safe and comfortable. So it includes in its preparedness measures a handbook for civilians on the correct procedure when air raid warnings are sounded.

The instructions are to extinguish all lights, clear the attic or top floor of everything inflammable, seal all windows, doors, chimneys and wall cracks

INTERESTING ITEMS ABOUT MEMBERS OF VARIOUS 4-H CLUBS

"I made two face towels since last club meeting," reported Elizabeth Finch, Pursley 4-H club girl.

"I used linen to make them; each towel is 18 inches wide and 27 inches long. I whipped a 1-4 inch hem in the sides of each towel. On each towel I used a conventional design in cross-stitch in two shades. I hemmed the ends of one towel while I fringed the other," continued Elizabeth.

Towels of this type are serviceable and easy to launder, as well as attractive.

Billie Gwendolyn Stiles, Bedroom demonstrator for the Pursley 4-H club, used the wood in an old organ to make a portable wardrobe, for her room.

First, the old organ was taken apart, the material sorted, and the best pieces used to make the front and sides of the wardrobe. The wardrobe is two feet wide and five feet long with double doors swung from either end and opening at the center front. Two rods were put in to hold her dresses and coats, while shelves were placed in one end for folded garments.

The exterior was refinished in light oak; thus, very serviceable storage was provided by utilizing material on hand and at a very nominal cost.

TOM HUNTER WILL MAKE FOURTH RACE TEXAS GOVERNOR

WICHITA FALLS OIL MAN IS SELF-STYLED CHAMPION OF PLAIN PEOPLE

WICHITA FALLS, April 20.—(P)—Three times loser as gubernatorial candidate, Tom F. Hunter, Wichita Falls oil man, today had entered the race again as the self-styled champion of the "plain people."

The fiery West Texan, who, in 1934 lost a close runoff battle to Gov. James V. Allred and again met defeat in 1936, announced formally last night after a tour over the state which, he said, convinced him he should again seek the governor's post.

Entry of Hunter, who votes in the same precinct with Gov. Allred, threw the race into an unpredictable scramble.

Hunter, in announcing, said:

"In 1934 and in 1936 those who believed as I have, found the state machine holding a solid line. We pushed it back just as far in the 1936 primary as we did in the first of 1934. We got just as many votes, and each time, though, we were crippled in scrimmage and couldn't carry through with the ball."

"In 1934 the money wagon ran over us when we couldn't buy stamps, yet convinced the many that we were millionaires. In 1936 we were forced down by the United front of the state machine, the Centennial air and an unfortunate trade."

"The machine, is widely split this year. The ball can now be carried through the line. The people can score. The horses of the old money wagon are collared in the opposite direction. It may hold the tonnage but it can't show the mileage."

"My fight for the plain people was not begun lightly. It was sincere. It is true that they have bled my brow with their silvered lodes; they have chagrined my friends by false propaganda, but they have never broken my course. The steering of this ship of state may now be manned by the plain man."

Hunter did not immediately announce his platform planks nor indicate when he would start active campaigning.

EX-STUDENT OF SMU LOSES ATTEMPT GET BACK TUITION FEES

AUSTIN, April 20.—(P)—Herman Evans, former student at Southern Methodist University, lost in supreme court today in an effort to recover more than $1,800 tuition and other fees from that institution because it did not award him a degree in music.

Evans claimed the University was under contractual obligation to graduate him, but the court decided otherwise.

"There is no allegation," the court wrote, "stating that the university became more definite in an offer to confer a degree upon the plaintiff than the allegation of an offer to teach him the essential subjects, coupled with an expression of opinion that in the course of time he could secure from defendant a degree in piano, and after doing so, make an estimated salary."

The McKenzie Construction Company won a partial victory in its suit against the city of San Antonio as sums claimed to be due it under a contract for construction of the Olmos Creek detention dam. The supreme court, reversing the court of civil appeals, said the contract was void. It sent the case back to the civil appeals court, however, for a decision on other issues.

If the Nueces county trial court judgment is upheld, the company will receive $2,157 plus 8 percent interest from February 24, 1927, until paid.

The supreme court agreed to rehear the case in which the state is attempting to establish title to a strip of oil producing land in the Yates oil field of Pecos county.

Three more appeals involving land controversies were dismissed by the supreme court for want of jurisdiction.

One was of the Livingston Oil and Gas Company, which said the Shasta Oil Company and others, unsuccessfully claimed title to a one-acre tract in Gregg county. Another was by Mrs. Martha Jackson and others from the 32-acre decisions holding title to 32 acres in Marion was vested in John T. Jackson.

The third was that of Frank C. Bolton, who sought to overthrow lower court judgments establishing title to 2.48 acres in the Hollingsworth survey of Rusk county in the Dyck Oil Company.

In only three other states were more federal funds spent than in Texas. New York led with 1,605,428,374, followed by Pennsylvania, Illinois and Texas in the order named.
